

Privacy Policy

ACREN Clinics respects the privacy of every client-patient and of every visitor to this website and in doing so always acts in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and all other laws or decisions arising from this GDPR and all other laws or decisions arising from this GDPR.

ACREN Clinics makes every effort to ensure the reliability, security and integrity of the data collected. This means that any personal data you enter on the website or otherwise provide to us will be kept strictly confidential and will only be collected and processed to:

- Communicate with or contact you
- Provide you with the information you request and need to know for a scheduled treatment
- Allowing you to make an appointment, change it and receive a reminder of it
- Compile your medical file, carry out your appointments with your doctor within the framework of your treatment
- Contact you after your treatment in case of medical necessity or legal obligation, generate statistical information (always anonymous)

Your personal data will only be passed on to third parties if this is necessary to fulfil an agreement made with you or to comply with a legal obligation. Your personal data will not be used for direct marketing purposes. If this is deviated from, ACREN Clinics commits itself to always explicitly stating this and to requesting explicit permission for this.

ACREN Clinics undertakes to keep the data up to date and to remove or adjust incorrect or incomplete data. Access to these data is limited to persons who need these data for the performance of their tasks.

You have the right at any time to request your personal data to be corrected, completed, amended or deleted.

You can contact us via email: servicedesk@acren.uk or by phone +32 14 - 49 18 81.